

The Tatler

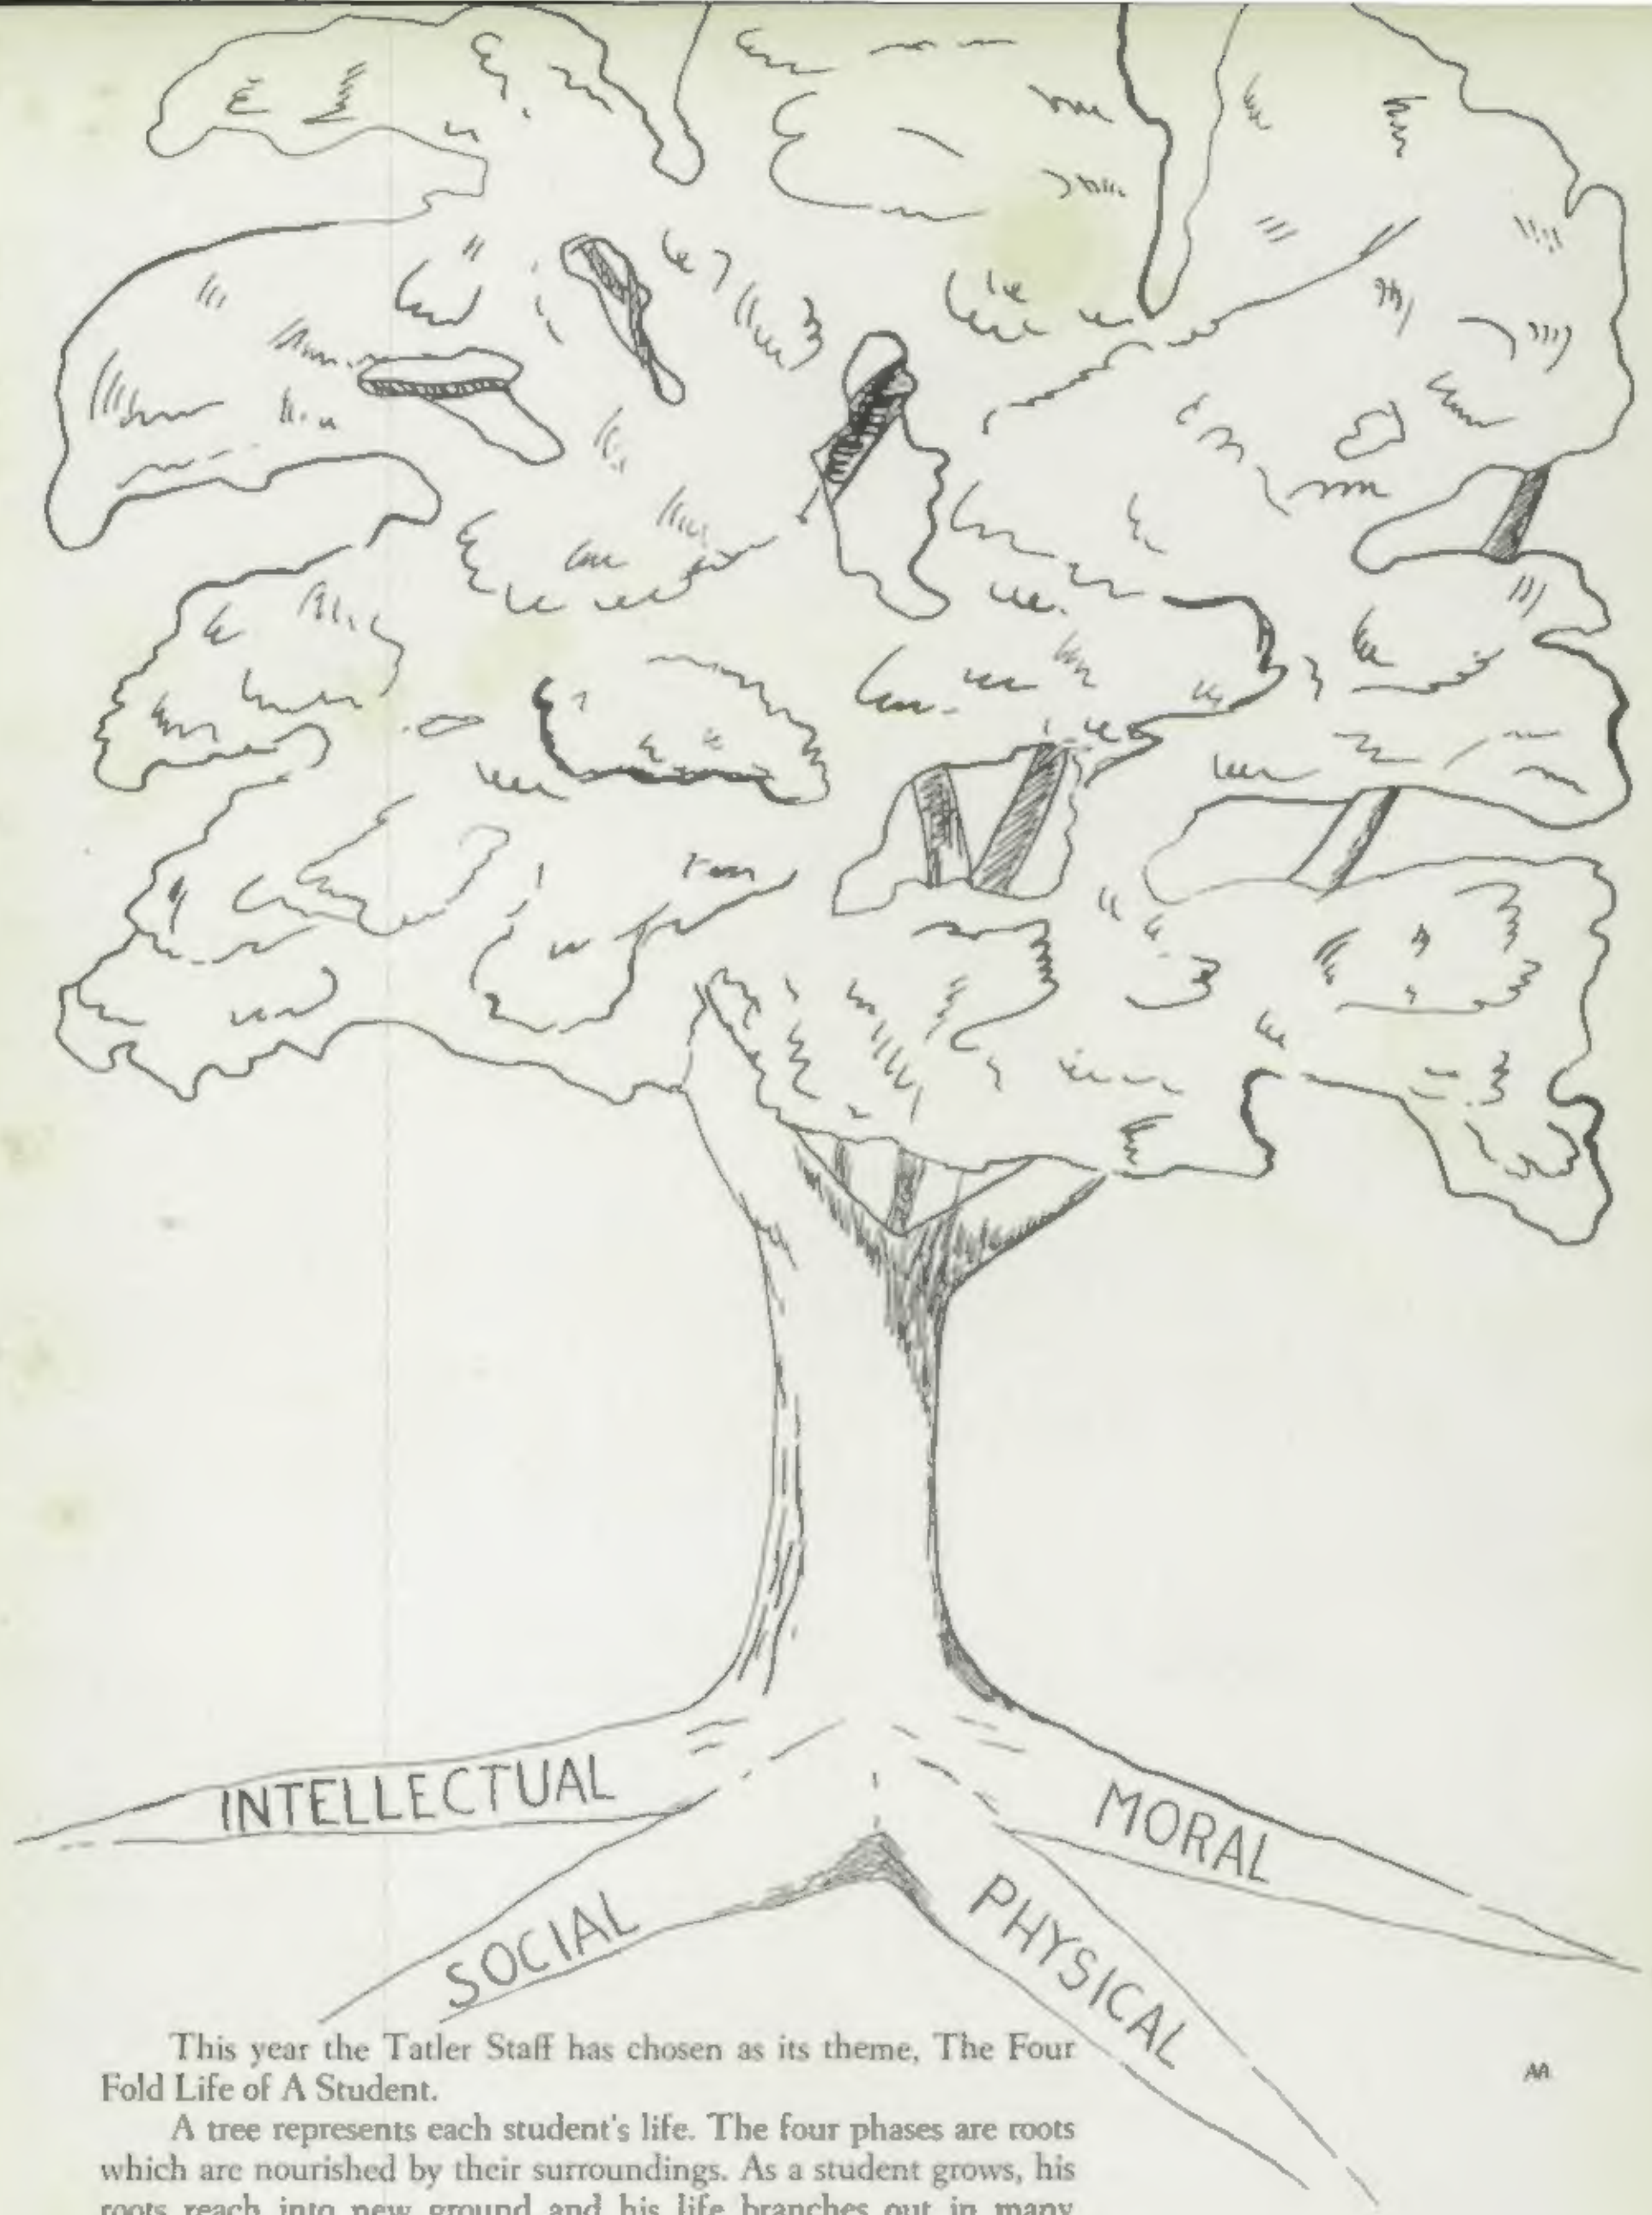

1952

During the year of 1929-30, a committee was chosen to establish a school seal. After much research, our present seal was selected. The seal was officially adopted and first appeared in the 1930 yearbook. The idea of three balls and a crescent on a shield was taken from the authentic William Penn family coat of arms. Greek mythology contributed the lamp, oak leaves and laurel branch. Therefore this allegorical sign means that at William Penn (shield) is taught knowledge (lamp of learning) which will make students strong and victorious (laurel and oak) the rest of their days.

This year the Tatler Staff has chosen as its theme, The Four Fold Life of A Student.

A tree represents each student's life. The four phases are roots which are nourished by their surroundings. As a student grows, his roots reach into new ground and his life branches out in many directions.

There is plenty of nourishment around us. Our future depends on how well we use it to develop our life.

"He Who Overcomes Others Is Strong; He Who Overcomes Himself Is Mightier Still." As our class motto suggests, let us here dedicate ourselves and this book to the conquering of our own personalities first—then, to the understanding and loving of all peoples. This, as at our founding twenty-five years ago, is the hope for the world to come.

The Guiding Hand

As we journey along the path of life to maturity, we young people value greatly the assistance of our leaders.

It has been our good fortune during the past three years to have benefited from the just decisions and suggestions of our Superintendent and Board of Education. They have given freely and untiringly of their time. With their foresight, imagination, and capability, their administration has been quite successful.

We, the class of 1952, are proud and honored to have received our most important phase of training for life under their helping hands.

DR. E. A. CLAFELTER

Our Principal

No school can endure without firmness mellowed by justice and sympathy. No student body can remain so closely knit without kindly, careful guidance to hold it together. Dr. E. A. Clafelter has been a sincere executive, keenly conscious of his responsibilities for his help, and everything else he has done for us, we say, "Thanks a million."

MR. GEORGE F. PORTER

His Assistant

Throughout our high school career, Mr. George F. Porter has guided us with a patient and understanding hand. He has set many of us on the "straight and narrow road to success." The Class of 1952 extends to Mr. Porter its deepest appreciation that he may know his special place in our memories.

Meet The Faculty

No yearbook is complete without a tribute to our teachers. From the time we entered this, our final stage of formal education, as a group of scared sophomores, to the time we will walk through the halls for the first time as students, we have had the most wonderful teachers possible. We appreciate all they have done for us and sincerely hope that other classes from William Penn will continue to benefit from their outstanding direction and unceasing instruction.

Abstract

Intellectual development plays an important part in the life of a student. His mind is invaluable. Through education comes light from out of the darkness. There is a newer and better understanding of all things. "To train his mind to reason logically—to live and act to the best of his ability with intelligence, discretion, tolerance, and foresight, is the responsibility of each man so endowed by his creator."

The Class of '52 wishes to express its appreciation to our yearbook advisor, Miss M. Marie Altland. Everyone will remember Miss Altland for her untiring work in the classroom and the Latent Office. Her patient guiding hand and her warm personality were always given freely to our staff. We will always regard her as our special friend and wish her the success and happiness she deserves.

The Latent, William Penn Senior High School's yearbook, is a prize winner according to scholastic press associations. One of the questions uppermost in the minds of seniors as the school year draws to a close is: "When will The Latent come out. For several years, graduates have been held in suspense by the shortages and wartime difficulties which have plagued the entire publishing business.

The first yearbook of our school appeared in 1908. It was not known as 'The Tatler' then and the school was merely York High School, not Wichita Penn. The first book was a paper bound affair illustrated with a few sketches, and was a complete antithesis of today's publication. The present title, "The Tatler," appeared in 1915, and its name was given by Agnew Eason, a member of the class. The production of 'The Tatler' is a year-long project.

The Alpha Debating Society is the oldest organization in William Penn. They have had a long and prosperous history. The society meets every Monday evening. Programs consist of debating, public speaking, dramatics and training in Parliamentary Procedure. They meet with other literary societies several times a year for social get togethers. Each year the school looks forward to the A.D.S. assembly program which is always excellent. Candidates for membership are seen wearing the gold and black ties. They undergo a tedious initiation willingly since it is an honor to be the wearer of an Alphan pin.

If you were to pass room 122 late some Wednesday afternoon you might hear strains of the Chio Song filling the air, thus ending each weekly meeting of the Chio Literary Society. Founded in 1901, Chio is the oldest girls' society in the school. Each year the society renders its services to the school in many ways. Its members are outstanding in almost every phase of school life. Membership in its ranks is purely elective. This year Chio presented in auditorium a musical drama entitled "Squaw Winter." Each meeting is highlighted with an original literary program from which the girls not only get enjoyment but gain knowledge and experience.

Demosthenian Literary Society is an organization open to all male members of the senior or junior classes, and the sophomore class in the second semester. The boys may apply for membership provided they rank in good class standing and do not hold membership in any other boys society within the school.

The aim of the society is mainly to promote public speaking, dramatics, debating and other arts of a literary nature. D. L. S. boys sponsor dances, a yearly stag party and literary programs within their own group. They also participate in an assembly program each year. This year the "Blue and Black" Christmas Program, written by Miss Lydia Caplan of our school, was excellent. Good luck in the future, boys.

Twenty-nine years ago Der Deutsche Verein was formed by students interested in increasing their knowledge of the German language. Today they desire insight into the life and mind of the German people as a whole. During the past years when Germany's power ascended, they learned much. This society is gaining its goal.

They meet every other Monday of the month at 3:30. Their motto is Übung macht den meister, translated—"Practice Makes Perfect."

One of the leading girls' societies of the school is the Euterpæan Literary Society. It trains girls in literary background and institutes social events. The society has been a successful organization since 1925. Euterpæan members are noted for their keen knowledge of Parliamentary Procedure, which is brought out in the society. Girls attaining an 80% average in English and 75% average in all other subjects, with one semester in William Penn, are eligible for membership. May we wish good luck to the girls who hail the seal, "Know Us By Our Deeds."

The Industrial Department has one of the largest societies in the school. These boys are known by their Civil War caps, flags and slogans. One example is "Save your Confederate money, the South will rise again."

Since the Industrial students have little time for most of the other activities, the need for their own society is evident.

The society develops "gray matter" besides stressing industrial mechanics, because the emphasis is on parliamentary procedure and public speaking. If anyone (female in particular) is interested, they meet once a month on Tuesday evening.

If, while walking down the hall past room 152 some Friday noontime, you hear explosions, and minor repercussions, you may be sure that the Junior Academy of Science is meeting.

The society has grown from a membership of ten to a large and flourishing one. Experiments, lectures and displays make up the meetings. Several trips are made to Franklin and Marshall College science departments in Lancaster.

Two of its members, Paul Shannon and John Dunkelberger, masquerading as "Professor Bunsen and assistant Burner," recently gave an interesting assembly program containing several experiments and a lot of "horsing around."

This society has been a real help to those scientific students in all classes.

Junior Nurses Aides was organized due to the increasing interest in the field of nursing as a profession. Members of this society are chosen by the senior members of the society. The qualifications for membership are: good class standing and willingness to spend at least one evening a week at the hospital. Thus, the members gain experience about hospital procedure while aiding in many ways now. In later life this training will be appreciated.

All the students of academic and general Spanish are eligible for membership in La Tertulia. The club was organized for the purpose of giving students, who are enthusiastic about Spanish, an opportunity to use the language outside the classroom at informal social gatherings. Each year this society has a Fiesta to which all Spanish students are invited. They dance to the Spanish rhythms, hear a Spanish speaker, eat Spanish food, and really have a good time.

Monday noon is the meeting time for the school math students. Mu Alpha Theta was organized to increase the knowledge of all those especially interested in mathematics. During their meetings the society discusses new mathematical theories, considers easier methods and short cuts in math, and reviews many ideas al

Many of the members plan to continue their study in mathematics after graduating from high school, so they are greatly interested in all new ideas and methods which will aid them in their future studies. A special award is given by the society to the senior with the highest average in mathematics

Junior and senior girls in the commercial course are eligible for membership in this society. The girls gain valuable information and training for their entrance into the business world. Founded on October 9, 1933, the society serves as a relaxation and a recreational period after the long days of study. The Penn Commercial colors are brown and red. Their meetings are held in room 121 every Wednesday evening. Good luck to aspirants of the business world.

Quill and Scroll, the International Honor Society for high school journalists was organized in William Penn on March 31, 1952, by Miss Minnie Marie Altland, advisor. The aim and purpose of the new organization is to reward individual achievement and to encourage individual initiative in work such as high school journalism, creative writing and allied fields. This society functions to serve the individual writer staff members, apart from his associates, by recognizing and rewarding his particular talent and ability. Membership in this organization is selective and may be secured only through a local chapter.

Societas Latina, now in its 22nd year, is a large and very active society. Be it a trip to Walters Museum in Baltimore or a Roman banquet attended in costume, you may be sure the society enjoys and appreciates these projects to the fullest.

The purpose of Societas Latina is to increase knowledge of the language, habits, and manners of the ancient Romans.

Anyone who has completed one year of Latin with an average of 80% is eligible for membership.

Student Employment Service was organized in 1941. This agency helps all the industrious students to secure part time jobs in local stores, thus providing extra money for many necessities or a "rainy day."

Any pupil in good class standing, desiring employment and able to qualify for the type of service required, is eligible for membership. The purpose is to secure part time positions for students in order to render services for the school and community.

The organization helps the members to become more independent and to meet and understand people in all walks of life.

Musical

An inspiration to those girls and boys interested in music as a career or otherwise, is our orchestra. Many fine opportunities to appreciate good music in later life, are offered by this fine musical organization. The members work hard every Thursday after noon at 3:30 practicing the kind of music everyone enjoys. The

Social

Today a student must be a vital part of the life that goes on about him. By blending his personality with those of other students he helps humanity in two ways. First, he shares the best part of himself in an effort to enrich his fellow men. He also satisfies his need for friendship and fellowship

Junior Prom

Our Junior Prom was one of the most memorable of all our social events in Bill Penn. Playing all the popular tunes, the Sunlight Serenaders provided us with music continuously from 9 until 12. The brightest stars of the prom were Shirley Seibert and Daniel Ness, who were chosen the Queen and King of "Cherry Blossom Time." Upon arriving at the "garden" in the boys' gym, we passed under the arbor of flowers and beheld pink and white streamers, balloons, forsythia and dogwood bouquets, picket fences and a bird-bath. Yes, this was really a night to remember!

Junior Play

Father whistled and everyone came running. It was inspection time for the Gilbreth family. Thus, the 1952 Junior Class Play, "Cheaper by the Dozen," had its beginning.

The cast of characters was selected by a process of double elimination. Chosen to portray "father," was Paul Shannon. His wife, "Mrs. Gilbreth," was played by Clair Jo Kauffman as the part of the dozen children in the play, were the following: "Ernestine," Barbara Corl; "Frank," Ted Rehner; "Dickie," Beth Bentz; "Don," Bill Gemmill; "Bill," Charles Depter; "Lillian," Margie Kopp; "Martha," Patricia Baker. "The Housekeeper," Dr. Burton," "Joe Scales," Miss Brill," and "Larry" were characterized by Pat Linard, Robert Throop, Martin Seyler, Joanne Bortner, and Harold Rupp, respectively.

The play had its setting in the early twenties. Its humorous plot dealt with the hilarious antics of an efficiency expert and his brood of twelve. Directed by Miss Margaretta Hallock and Mr. Edward L. Walters, all committees co-operated to make the 1952 Junior Class play a huge success.

Announcers Ken Yohe and Dick Rhoda introduced our stars of tomorrow. Our lovely mistresses of the tap danced their way into the spotlight. Helen Lockard and our barbershoppers brought to Bill Penn the sweetest music this side of the Susquehanna. Joyce Forman added the Spanish touch with a lively folk dance and any gypsy would have turned green with envy to see Marge Kopp give her version of a gypsy rondo. Carmen Lehr and Kay Moberg made two pianos sing with "The Donkey Serenade." The ten fingers of Pat Laarkow over the keys of her accordion to render three most appreciated selections. To close the program Christine Thomas, our wonderful lady of the dance, brought us one of her graceful ballet dances.

Several times every year the National Thespian Society holds meetings in the main auditorium. During these meetings which are open to any interested people, three one act plays are presented. These plays are student chosen, directed, and casted. Members of the faculty act as judges in choosing the best play, which is usually awarded a sum of money. Some of the winners this year traveled to Millersville College to present their plays. These plays give dramatic students a chance to gain more acting knowledge and stage poise.

The Bequeath...

Our client, the Class of 1952, soon to pass out of existence, but realizing that the old must give way to the new and that others will come to take their places alongside of her, has authorized us to come and present to you this, her last will and testament. However, it is not with complete sadness that we stand before you on this serious and solemn occasion because, from this moment on, her deeds shall be carried world-wide. Though many will be laid by the wayside, we are certain that there will be a few that will always be remembered. So, we now present to you her final wishes and requests.

We leave to the future inhabitants of Room 202 the art of debating taught by Mr. DeBerti and so ably acquired by its present members.

We leave to the up-and-coming aspirants of Mu Alpha Theta the complex formula devised by their predecessors for computing the length of a foot ruler.

The boys of the Industrial Department leave to you, the underclassmen and future members of the union, their amputated arms and sawed-off fingers.

We will to the future classes of York High our footprints on Lover's Lane in Penn Park.

We give and bequeath to the Junior Class all such persons who deem it advisable to reflect another year in the Senior Class. Also to you future upperclassmen we will the ability to start inertia in their souls, so that they may not have, as have had some of our teachers, eternal life in York High.

To the future inhabitants of Mines 5 and 23 we leave the gas masks used by their predecessors, so that they too might survive the soot and odor of the dungeons.

We give and bequeath to all future members of our Student Government intuition, insight, and perspective so that they might form distinctive opinions, soluble answers, and corrective measures which have made and will continue to make William Penn the school of schools.

All the males of our class, who majored in that overburdening course known as "Foods" leave behind to their future contemporaries their sieved stomachs made thus by the simple digestion of their inedible conglomerations.

The fairer sex of the Senior Class will to all "land lubbers" their ability to do the "inverted nest hang" on the rings in Gym Class.

The seniors participating in the Finer Arts hereby leave to those of the lower classes their talents and abilities which they so ably displayed in all of their great productions.

We will to the outstanding newspapers of our community all the dangerous exploits, the great adventures, and the true romances that have preceded our graduation. Also in the future we donate to them the spicy tales, the shocking episodes, and the unbelievable stories, trusting that they may furnish plenty of material for news items and an inspiration for those younger students who so naturally look to us for examples.

All funny noises, screeches, whistles, taps, etc. passing from the orchestra pit in the form of a selection will fall to the remaining members of the high school.

To the English Department, if they promise not to be too harsh with us, we donate the mocking satisfaction that they will receive upon noticing the many grammatical errors in this the class will.

The chemists of the senior class reveal to all underclassmen their secret method for obtaining water—turn on the faucet.

All possessions not herein disposed of shall be given to the janitors on the condition that they will work.

And now that the most outstanding and successful task of all humanity has been completed, we, her representatives, do hereby place our signature as a final seal to this, the final will and testament of the Class.

Journey Into Time

*Listen, Old York High, and you shall hear
The prophecy by the prophets.
A Class like the Class of '52
Never again will come to you.
Let's visit the future on a cloud,
The things we see will make us proud.
We the prophets of '52
Give our prophecy to you.*

TIME: 1972

We see that all those Romeos who graduated in our class have now settled down, gotten married, and are raising a family. I'm positive that we had more eligible bachelors who paid NO attention to the opposite sex than any other class that has left the halls of Dear Old York High.

We noticed that the traffic situation is still not under control. But now we see that the problem is not racing cars, but racing helicopters. A new parking lot has been opened on the roof of the school and parking is 5¢ a day—all profits go to the Student Council Fund.

This reminds us of the Student Council. We see that they have taken over every office in the school. There is no longer a principal or an assistant principal, for the School Board feels that this is the way democratic principals are taught. What a life—a holiday every other day, assemblies that last all mornings, and cokes in all the fountains!

In scanning Penn Park, we see they now have heaters under every park bench for the benefit of all the lovers, and a canope to keep them dry in case of rain. Now that certain boy and girl can spend every noon time together regardless of the weather. (As if they didn't in '52.)

We see that now the Industrial fellows come to school dressed to kill. Polka-dot pants, checked coat, and plaid tie. Of course there is a conservative type that wears a chartreuse and orange plaid suit. The shops are modernized to such an extent that the fellows sit around and push buttons all day.

Looking in on a typical classroom we noticed that each student has his own compartment, with reclining seats. A complete selection of elegant foods is passed under their noses by means of conveyer belts. Teachers also have it easier because now they're teaching their students by Classroom Television. (This isn't too unusual—they always had it easy!)

The athletes of '52 who proved themselves so very worthy, have finally hung up their shoes, as Joe DiMag gio did the year we left school. They always said York produced (and still is producing) the greatest athletes of the United States.

All those future doctors in our class have certainly proved themselves worthy. After a long and tedious ordeal, involving much time and research, they have finally found a cure for cancer. However, now they're devoting all their time to the pet-peeve of all students past and present of Old York High—HOMEWORK. Good luck, we know you will succeed as you have done in the past.

We see that the former Commercial girls of our class are controlling every large industry and business of the U. S. This was the result of the fine training which they received in school, for after graduating they all managed, thru hook or crook, to marry their boss, after serving as his secretary.

The great array of scientists that graduated in '52 became the first ever to set foot on Venus. They found it thickly populated and overflowing with money. Therefore, being men of high intelligence, they dropped their scientific practices and opened night clubs. The wonderful entertainment that was offered the people of Venus was obtained from a magnificent group of singers and dancers, who made our stay at York High so enjoyable. After cleaning up all the money in Venus, they departed with their crew to Earth and back to our favorite pastime—Science.

Our D. E. students gained so much fame for their extravagant work, that they have been called upon to work at John Wanamaker's in London in the morning, Macy's New York in the afternoon, and Marshall Field, Chicago at night. Isn't the air age wonderful?

POP!!! There goes our cloud we were traveling on. Time we get back to earth.

*The Prophecy of '52
Has just been presented to you.
All we said was just in fun,
Good-luck to our class members, everyone.
And so with no further adieu
We remain the prophets of '52.*

*Prophets

Tony Janetta.*

Voyage Through Memories

We, the Class of 1952, reported for duty for the first time at Penn Common Harbor and set sail at 8 30, September 19, 1949, on the U.S.S. William Penn. We were all very anxious to get started with our third phase of school life. Although we were naturally inexperienced, we wanted to become thoroughly acquainted with our new school. This was true because it was on her that we hoped to reach our three year goal which was to be "Greater and Better Understanding Through Knowledge."

Already present on our new undertaking were, of course, our upperclassmen and new faculty. They accepted us with great expectancy since we were naturally potential uppershipmen. Before long our first crew meeting was held and Sam Toggas, Dave Boyer, Nancy Kline, and Joyce Gentzler were elected to represent us in the ship's senate. We were very happy to be informed that our class advisors were to be Mrs. Dolly McCulloch and Mr. Alvin Heiges. By this time we were accustomed to being the apprenticeshipmen. We had become used to taking orders from our superior Junior and Senior officers.

Our uppershipmen presented us ample opportunities to acquaint ourselves better with our new Alma Mater. Our first social event was our "Sophomore Hop" which was held in our ballroom. This affair proved to be a huge success. Everyone seemed to mingle and gain new friendships. Following this occasion, our first report cards became due, and now we better understood what was expected of us and in what subjects we lacked efficiency. Our second crew meeting was held, and Edward Blankenstein was elected our first crew president. We then chose our class motto, "He Who Overcomes Others Is Strong; He Who Overcomes Himself Is Mightier Still." This very briefly stated our purpose in good "Ole Bill Penn." Our Sophomore year soon passed on; for the first time we drifted into port in order to bid farewell to the Class of "1950" as well as to take our three months' leave.

Returning to the decks as Juniors, we knew very well that we were to assume increased responsibilities. Our first problem confronting us was that of selecting the activities in which we were going to specialize—whether our choice be Dramatics, Student Government, Music, Athletics, or Societies remained for us to decide. At our first Junior meeting of the crew, Carl Bentz was elected our president and Nancy Kline, Nan Mundis, John Ruth, and Dave Eisenhart, our crew senators.

We had two opportunities in our Junior Year to display our talent. The first was our Junior Talent Show. The theme was "The Revue of '52" with Urith Ann Spiese, Mary Shaub, Virginia Nichols, Sidney Cohen, and Carl Bentz as the script writers. Our second highlight was our Junior Play, entitled "Cheaper By The Dozen" with Paul Shannon and Claire Jo Kauffman enacting the roles of the father and mother. This production will always be remembered as a big success.

Opening our second semester, Carl Bentz was re-elected Junior Helmsman. Shortly after this our third class affair took shape as our Junior Prom, with its theme entitled "Cherry Blossom Time." Due to the diligent work of the various committee chairmen, this beautiful semi-formal affair was presented very successfully on the night of April 6, 1951.

Our summer vacation arrived and we again anchored at the next port to bid farewell to the Class of "1951." We knew only too well that we were to report back for duty in the fall as the skippers of the "U.S.S. William." Yes, our vacation came and went very rapidly and we now had to assume the responsibilities required of being Seniors. Again our crew had decreased very noticeably in number but we didn't "Give Up The Ship!" At our first Senior Class meeting Barry Attig was elected president and Nan Mundis, Katie Keller, Philip Stough, and Edward Kottcamp were elected to serve in the senate. The Commencement Committee with Doris Maurer as Chairman and the Farewell Assembly Committee composed of Frances Myers and Lewis Levin were constantly on the job realizing very well that our time was limited.

The Second Annual Homecoming Celebration proved to be bigger and better than the year before when it was originated. Nan Mundis was elected to reign over the weekend festivities and Pat Nesbit and Doris Kleiman, her attendants. Margy Kopp was selected by the football team to be their "Sweetheart." Our Frolic entitled "Petticoat Politics" was staged on November 29, 30, and December 1. Dave Boyer and Margy Kopp shared the leads, while JoAnn Chronister served as the Student Director. This month was exceedingly rough on the high seas, but we managed to keep our course.

Historian
Carl Bentz

Before long our Mid-Semester Finals quickly approached. Our Joint Society Dances and our Senior Prom concluded our Social life on board; these will always remain utmost in our minds. Our Farewell Assembly took place on May 15 and 16, 1952.

On the evenings of May 27, 28, and 29 our Commencement pageant was held. For the last time we said "bon voyage" to our vessel which we learned to love.

Our goal was now in sight. We all had a feeling of gladness as we looked ahead into the future, for we realized that we were leaving something very dear behind us.

We, the Class of 1952, wish to thank all of those responsible in preparing us to meet the challenges of this troubled world in which we are about to enter. We shall never forget the good times we had on your decks during the past three years. With this last thought we leave you, "U S S. William Penn." Let us be remembered as having sailed our course and having overcome the storms along the way.

There are many schools about us,
But none like William Penn
She's stood the test since '27
We hope she has no end

And though our work is finished,
The Class of '52,
We'll always remember with pride and joy,
Her colors of orange and blue

Class Poet—Lovce Johnson

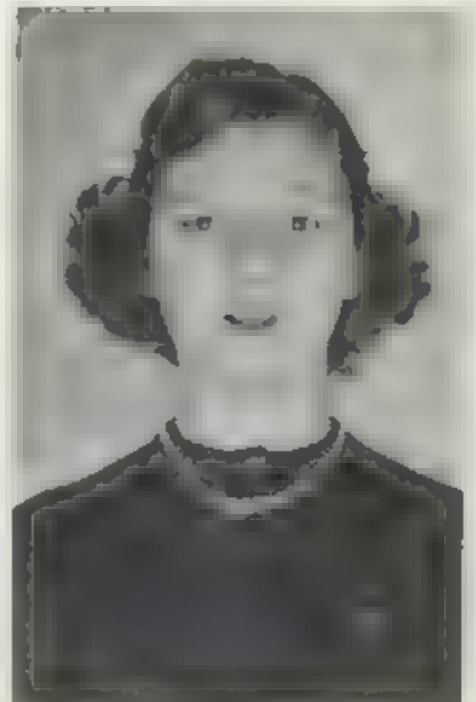

With the knowledge we've gained in her halls of fame,
We'll win life's race at every bend
And though the road be rough and steep,
We'll always cherish our William Penn

We bid thee adieu mid cheers and shouts,
Farewell! farewell! old orange and blue!
We are out to win in the game of life,
With all the knowledge to see us through

Artist—Truda Schriver

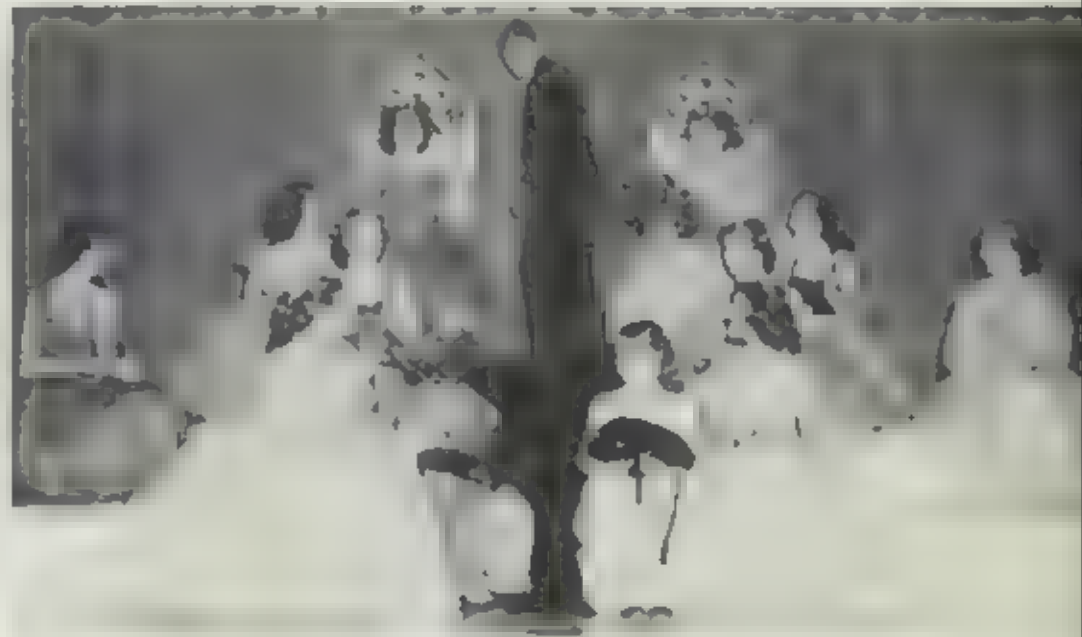

Dear class of fifty two,
Now that we're leaving you,
Our thoughts will always be
A treasured memory,
We hold our heads up high
As we walk proudly by,
We love you so, dear Old York High,
Dear Old York High.

Our days are drawing nigh,
We have to say good-by,
The fun we've had,
The friends we've made we'll ne'er forget,
We hold the orange and blue,
A symbol proud and true,
We'll miss you so, dear Old York High,

The committee plans to select the supervision of Miss Anne Finkbinder. Teachers are assigned to collect ideas for assemblies and a representative from the assembly committee aids them. The committee strives for educational as well as entertaining programs. This is made possible by having a variety such as sports, music, science and literary assemblies.

Thanks to this great little committee William Penn has been graced with beautiful school dances and socials. In order to make each dance bigger and better than the last the members work feverishly on new ideas. It is difficult to make each one better than the last but our members with their creative ingenuity, always come shining through.

Money with a capital "M" is this committee's big interest. Introducing any items that might be of interest to the school keeps the committee on its toes. Promoting sales of book covers, emblems, stickers, pennants, hats and license plates, to mention a few, controls the committee's work. The members are willing at any time to donate their services for school projects. Keep up the good work!

Anyone who saw either the Frolic or the Commencement Pageant can vouch for the work of our Script Committees. This year, as in the past several years, the William Penn Script Committees established an enviable record for writing both the Frolic and the Commencement dramatizations. Yes, we, the graduating class of '52, want to extend our sincere thanks to these committees for a job well done

This society, named after the God, Thespis, consists of future actors and actresses. There are many ways to earn the hundred points needed for membership. By participation in any Thespian play, any school production or any of the committees, such as publicity, make-up, costume or property.

Meetings are not held regularly and no dues are collected. The important meetings of the year are the two presentations of Thespian plays, one a semester, and the annual banquet and installation ceremony. These are all held in the evening.

Once a student becomes a Thespian, he may earn stars. To receive a star another hundred points must be earned.

SECOND ROW, Left to Right: George Michaels, Thomas Gibbs, Frank Werner, Ray Jones, Clair Snyder

Under the direction of Kenneth Yohe, the Sunlight Serenaders furnish music for the monthly dances and various other school sponsored events. During the year they are the featured attraction of an assembly program. The members bestow much praise upon Robert Slenker who wrote their theme song, "Sunlight Serenade." Rosemarie Forte and David Boyer, the vocalists, have provided us with excellent entertainment by their different interpretations of the top tunes of the day.

Members are chosen from the band and are under the direction of a high school senior. To the members of this orchestra go our sincere thanks for the many hours of pleasure which we have received from listening to them.

Seuiojs

Our Tatler Staff has recorded in this book the highlights of our life in William Penn. We have made history—not world wide history, but one which will be read and re-read by our class for years to come. We Seniors have now reached the high school graduation milestone. Let us not stop here, but go on to larger and greater triumphs

Our Gratitude

Advisers—Mrs. Dolly McCulloch and Mr. A. C. Heiges

Throughout our high school career, two individuals are outstanding in the field of counsel to the class of 52. To these two—Mrs. Dolly McCulloch and Mr. A. C. Heiges—we, the class of 52, express our sincere thanks and our deepest gratitude and respect for helping us to acquire the best things that could be attained in our three year stay at Good Old York High. To you we wish the best of luck in the future

RADIO SCRIPT COMMITTEE

RADIO SCRIPT COMMITTEE

The activities at William Penn are well covered, on the radio. A staff of radio script writers work hard, not only during the half hour broadcasting time on Sunday afternoons but all through the week and during activities periods, to get the program together so that not even the smallest detail of the life at William Penn is overlooked. The experience that the participating students gain not only is a service to themselves but a service to the community at large. Many facts which would otherwise escape the attention of the public, not to mention some extremely uninformed students, are brought to the fore. Those serving regularly on the staff under the leadership of Kay Moberg are Alma Grove, Mary Lou Conroy, Jane Thornton, Joan Feldman, William Stough, Dave Boyer, Joe Rizzuto, and George Card.

The Milestone is Reached

"When Our Days With Thee Are Over."

The Baccalaureate Chorus

Meet the Senior Honor Students.

That Coveted Diploma!

MEMISEMIDEMIQUAVERS

Many happenings around school cannot be put in any category. It is felt that these events should not pass unmentioned. We sincerely hope that by reading these phrases a pleasant memory may be recalled

DO YOU REMEMBER:

That first day at Bill Penn . . . those dungeons and endless halls
the class and school dances . . . those class meetings . . . society initiations
. . . the helpful upperclassmen with their directions, "Take the elevator at the end of the hall" . . . the Junior Talent show . . . the Industrial Assembly . . . our great school publications and productions . . . Toby's automobiles . . . "C" paper by the Dozen . . . the hunt for the lowest common denominator . . . vini, vidi, vici . . . those early morning band practices cramming before final exams . . . the excitement of Forensics . . . Home coming Day . . . that Christmas Assembly written by Miss Caplan Grendel . . . the Band Dance at the Valence . . . the sneak up the steps shoes in hand—at 3:30 A. M. . . Professor Shannon's scientific assembly
. . . that serious debate about installing elevators . . . air raid and fire drills usually during gym classes . . . those poor greeners . . . those aromas in the halls after Chemistry Class . . . that mysterious explosion . . . those white shoes . . . our thrilling basketball games . . . York High's sportsmanship at a certain game . . . the yearbook deadline . . . the excitement of giving out pictures and name cards . . . that Senior Prom . . . the first march down the auditorium in cap and gown . . . the first day of vacation

This year marked the most dismal football season in the history of the school. The Bearcats under their new coach, Francis "Chubb" Brady, won one game while losing nine. In the opener our boys fought hard but dropped a close battle to Washington Eastern 7-0. The second game went to Hanover 14-13 as the Nighthawks scored on the last play of the game and then converted the extra point after time had expired. Next, York lost consecutive conference battles to Williamsport 19-0, Lebanon 13-7, John Harris 38-6, Reading 34-8, Harrisburg Penn 13-0, and Steelton 32-0. The only bright spot was the 20-0 home coming day victory over Amber High School. However, this was the extent of our good luck. On the following Saturday the Bearcats dropped the seasons final to Lancaster 14-6.

The 1951 edition of our "diamond Demons," guided by Eddie Waleski, battled to a three way tie for the league title. The big guns for the Bearcats were Russ Koontz, captain and catcher, and George Guyer, the left fielder with the big bat. Bill Morningstar and Hal Brown also deserve a hand for their fine all around play.

Have you ever wished you could take a cool, refreshing dip in the spacious, newly-constructed Y. W. C. A. swimming pool, after a hard days toiling in school? Well, if you are a member of the female sex, and can swim three lengths of the "Y" pool, you are eligible for membership in the Dolphin Swimming Society.

This society, under the guidance of Miss Elz-abeth Niederhauser, meets at the "Y" pool every Monday after school for a period of muscle-building exercise combined with healthful relaxation.

So, when you hear that familiar cry, "Hurry up, let's go! Last one in is a sissy!!", you'll know that the Dolphins have once again invaded "Neptune's Water's" and left their cares and worries far behind.

When you see a student full of pep and just bursting to tell you about the sports at Bill Penn, you're probably looking at a member of Penn Peppers. The "peppers" consist of fifty students who plan pep meetings and stress better sportsmanship.

This year the wearers of the orange and white sponsored Homecoming Day. This included an assembly program, a queen, a football game and dance. Another project was that of decorating the bleachers at all sports events. As a result of their untiring efforts, this society has received recognition from many outside sources and from all the students and the faculty. They most certainly have experienced another successful year.

Moral

An inner, deeper, fellowship with the creator is reached only through development of moral and spiritual characteristics. Man, alone, is a weak and worthless being. His hopes and plans are insignificant as compared to the marvelous works of the universe. All phases of living—intellectual, social, moral, and physical—contribute to attempt to make the best sort of person possible.

much, faster—and a capable playmaker. He was the tallest man on the team, also an outstanding backfield star on the Steelers' W. P. I. A. L. football championship team last year. He scored 29 points Saturday, as Farrell beat Coatesville.

Miller, smallest man on the team at five feet nine, was an outstanding guard in pacing Bethlehem to an East Penn Conference championship. Although predominantly a playmaker and not a scorer, he set a new Bethlehem record of 35 points in 24 games. He also set a new East Penn Conference individual game mark of 38 points against Pottsville. Miller received 65 points in the balloting.

Modest Hal Brown Thanks 'Friends' Who Aided Career

All-stater Hal Brown today took the announcement that he had been named to the first team of the Associated Press Pennsylvania scholastic basketball squad in a modest way.

Happy that he had been named to the first team, and that he had received the fourth highest number of votes, Brown said his teammates "deserved as much credit as I got."

Brown, who hopes to major in physical education and recreation at Penn State, gave the following prepared release to the Dispatch this morning after learning of his newest honors:

"To all my friends: It is my fond desire to thank all of my friends for everything that has brought about this great honor to me, my teammates, my school and our fine community in which I live."

A Government?

School President
CARL BENTZ

Vice President
CHET ZINN

Our policy of student government has been proved excellent many times over. This is due, in part, to the efficiency of our cabinet. They are really the silent hands behind all school projects and are called upon time and again. Our wonderful homecoming program, among other things, is a fine example.

Anne Finkbinder
Advisor to Student Government

Two girls and two boys are elected each year by the three classes in William Penn. They are known as the Senate, second in importance only to the cabinet. Our school has prospered due to the work of our Senate. The Community as well as the faculty and students is aided. Under the able supervision of Miss Anne Finkbinder, the Senate has accomplished much this year. Our school has prospered due to the work of our Senate.

House of Representatives

The House of Representatives is the center of the student activities in William Penn. Not only does it make rules and pass laws, but it also solves problems such as traffic in the halls, auto traffic, and the huge problem of sportsmanship. They represent democracy in action.

When things are lost, a Representative may be found at the lost and found desk. The cleanliness of the grounds is overseen by the House and Grounds Committee. Activities are financed by the Ways and Means Committee. The Constitution is kept up to date and the school scrap book is made. Altogether, the Representatives are kept rather busy.

All students who have been in William Penn for one year and who have an average of 85 per cent or above are considered for membership in the National Honor Society. The faculty selects the members on a basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Scholarship, however, counts twice as much as the other three qualities. Each year the society presents two shows, one each semester. Through these, money is raised to buy pins which are presented to the members at their election to the society. The purposes of the society are to give the deserving students recognition and to foster an interest in scholarship.

ASSEMBLIES

The Christmas Messiah

Devotions conducted in assemblies and home rooms are the sacred part of a high school student's life and each pupil participates in some form of prayer almost every day. The president of the school presides over the devotions before every assembly program. During the home room periods the Chaplain conducts prayers and patriotic salutes with his classmates. Handel's Messiah, presented by the Mixed Chorus each Christmas season, is the most beautiful and inspiring religious program seen by the student body throughout the year

Awards

Yearly, the Daughters of the American Revolution present a special award to a deserving and outstanding student. The senior girl excels in dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism

Ann Beckner

A key is presented by the Elmira Club of York to the girl of the Junior Class who has excelled in service scholarship, leadership and character.

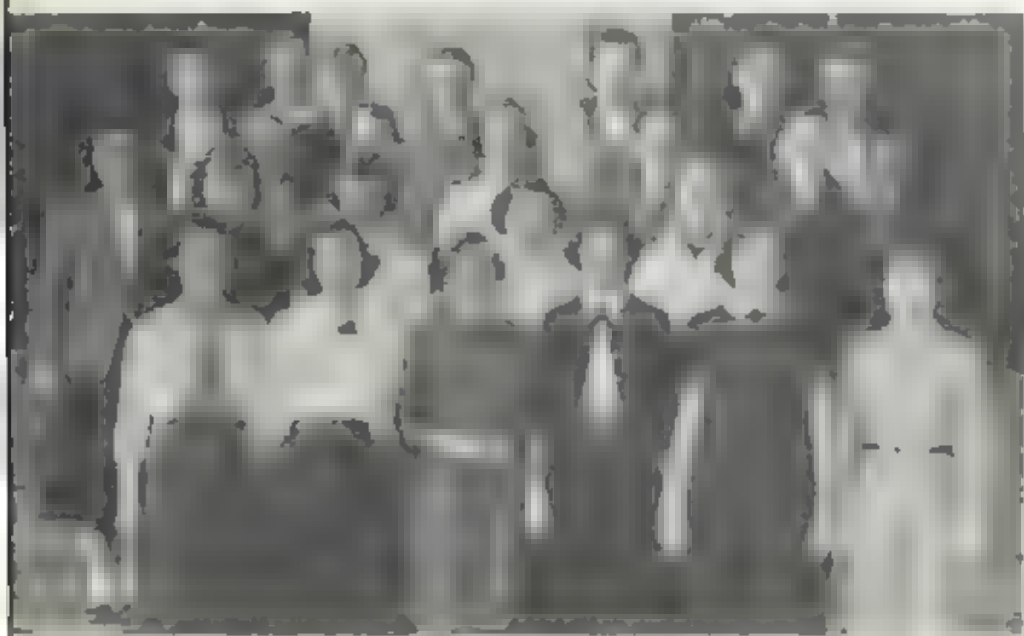

Christine Thomas

Delta Kappa Gamma, a national teacher honor fraternity, annually presents an award to the outstanding student of our local Future Teachers of America, also a national organization and affiliated with the National Education Association

SERVICE SQUAD

Every two weeks our Secretary of Service issues appointments for the members that include backstage duty, hall duty, library work, honor study duty, and many others. They offer their services for after-school functions. Their main aim is to keep Bill Penn running smoothly, and they do a wonderful job of it.

STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD

Senior members make up the committee which is called the "big brother and sister committee." Their job is to acquaint new school members with the services and opportunities of William Penn. They sponsor the Sophomore Hop each year in hopes that they can break down the sophomore wall of formality.

RED CROSS COMMITTEE

This committee's busy schedule includes planning parties and cards for the blind. Each year hundreds of braille cards are made and sent out over Christmas and Easter. The committee members also take care of table decorations for the Student Banquet. An annual Junior Red Cross Drive, a school project, and the International Album round out the committee's program, which always proves to be highly successful. Hats off to the committee which brings a little light into someone's dark moments!

YORK'S 25 YEAR CLUB HONORS TEACHERS

The York City Education Association established an award as tangible evidence of appreciation for services rendered by pupils, parents, schools and community over a substantial period of time.

The award came at the suggestion and proposal of Miss M. M. Arnold, a member of the Executive Board of the York City Education Association. Miss Arnold is a life member of the National Education Association and active in the Pennsylvania State Education Association as well as the local professional organization.

Dr. R. O. Stoops

Dr. R. O. Stoops was a real educator, a diligent worker, and a true friend. He was the father of the Junior High School movement in our York City School system and was superintendent of the Public Schools of York at the opening of our new William Penn Senior High School in 1927.

1927

Dr. C. B. Heinly

Dr. C. B. Heinly, whose colorful personality found its way into the hearts of every student in 1927, is remembered especially for the establishment of Student Government in our new William Penn Senior High School. His years of meritorious activity that characterized our school's first principal served to mold a life of scholastic honorship, religious eminence and personal distinction. The students found in him a source of cooperative support and infallible administrative policy.

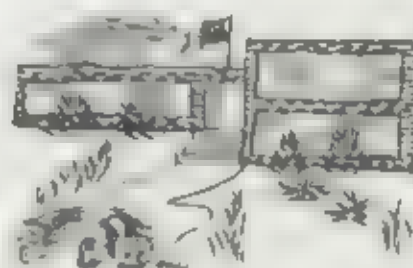

Dr. Arthur W. Ferguson, our beloved superintendent, is a person of great vision and ability. His are the hands that hold the reins—behind the education which our school has endeavored to impart is a record of achievement which gives high value to its diploma. Graduation from our school has become a mark of distinction due to continued growth accented by the quickened tempo of an alertness and an ever increasingly awareness of student-body, faculty, and interested community.

Dr. Arthur W. Ferguson

Dr. Edward A. Glatfelter

Dr. Edward A. Glatfelter came to us with a sagacity of deed and purpose; and a thorough knowledge and background that comes through cumulative channels of a purposetul life well-lived. The power of words wisely chosen are always linked with his name. The work in this institution is greatly enriched by his amiable disposition and surety of judgment. Live, study, and work together is his philosophy, and we shall always appreciate his loyalty, patience, and perseverance in the name of William Penn, our Alma Mater, now twenty-five years old.

In Memoriam

Dr. R. O. Stoops

Dr. C. B. Hemly

Professor Frederick W. Porter

FREDERICK W. PORTER

Fred W. Porter was a most beloved faculty member, an unreplaceable professor, and an admirable citizen of our community. His influence on the student body and faculty of William Penn was one of the most beautiful features of our school. He gave something of value to every young man and woman with whom he came in contact. He was very kind and thoroughly unselfish in aiding those in difficulty.

Professor Porter, as he was always endearingly called, graduated from the York High School in 1883, was one of the founders of the Alpha Debating Society, retired in 1929 after forty-five years of teaching experience in the high school, was head of the Social Science department and vice-principal of our alma mater. Thousands of citizens in our community were influenced by his character and leadership. During his sixteen years of retirement, he continued his studies of ethnology, anthropology, the American Indians and the Old Testament, taking courses at the University of Pennsylvania and Union Seminary. His death in 1945 ended a long and useful career.

It is with the utmost appreciation of services, the kindest admiration of his personality and the highest respect, esteem, and affection of our alma mater that the Tatler of 1952 on its twenty fifth anniversary pauses in memory of Professor Frederick W. Porter.

Retired this year

We have come to the parting of the ways—a parting for each and every teacher. December 1951 brought the closing of the teaching career of Miss Ursula Ernst, long a faithful member of the professional staff of the School District of York. Fare and farewell, Miss Ernst, your myriads of friends will long remember your qualities that have endeared you to one and all. We will miss you.

After years of faithful service, Mr. J. Kimber Grimm has bidden his adieu to William Penn. His was a career of sincere interest in the welfare and advancement of each of his students. Knowledge and wisdom, guidance and inspiration were keynotes in the daily conduct of all of his classes. A man of versatility and varied intellectual interests, his classes were thereby enriched and enlivened by his constant presentation of related facts and interesting experiences. To Mr. J. Kimber Grimm, William Penn wishes a future of happiness, contentment, and joy.

Mr. Harry B. Seville—real teacher and true friend to several generations of boys. Unstintingly have you given of your time, your knowledge, and your energy to help a pupil. Willingly have you worked overtime to realize the plans of many a property committee for a school play. The dedication of yourself to your work and the whole-hearted cooperation in all school activities will always be an inspiration to us who worked with you.

The greatness of the country, the good it does its citizens, the freedom it secures them, the equality of opportunity evident in the success of the humblest born and the leadership of the self made, must all be enforced as a basis of grateful love of the country. But more than all should be pressed into the mind and soul of each boy and each girl that he or she is the country, and that as he or she shall pursue an honest, independent, industrious moral life, he or she will be making for a greater America.
